A Greeting to the Students of North Dallas High School:

E. B. Comstock

THE year 1926-'27 has been a splendid year. This is true, not because of a football championship—although our boys here made a splendid showing; nor because we ranked high in basket ball—and in this sport also we were close to the top; nor because we won the thrift cup for the third consecutive season—this is what we actually did; nor because we won the loving cup in the Spanish Speaking Contest—and we did this, too; but it is true because of the splendid team work in every line of school endeavor, on the part of pupil and teacher alike.

A large high school today is more than a place where pupils meet and recite to teachers in class rooms. It is a place where pupils are furnished an opportunity for development in hundreds of ways, because of contacts here made possible. It is a little world by itself. In it are found the same characteristics as are found in the community, the state, and the nation. There are the leaders and the followers; the industrious, the drones, the ambitious, the care free; the serious minded, the frivolous—all coming from as many different types of homes. But in spite of this we believe that desirable qualities outweigh the bad in North Dallas High School to such an extent that the progress made along various lines of development during the past year has been very satisfactory—in fact, the best in the history of our school.

E. B. COMSTOCK.

An Appreciation

THE staff of The Viking with all sincerity wishes to express its appreciation and gratitude to all helpers and to the students of North Dallas who have generously contributed their time and talents to the formation of this volume.

Recognizing the fact that one of the main supports of the structure of the Annual is its art content, the staff especially acknowledges the work of the students of the Art Department of the school under the competent supervision of Miss Margart Miller. For the working out of the marine motif, for the variety of detail and skillful execution, commendation is due to Miss Miller, to our art staff, and to Catherine McKinley, Carmen Hamill, Editha Hackworth, Manon Lampkin, Hattie Wylie, and Ada Culver. Walton Porter merits special mention for the excellence of his lettering.

The typing, which is an important and arduous part of manuscript work, has been patiently and satisfactorily done by Jessie Mae Boudreau, Margaret Johnson, and Jimmie Wood. To them we are grateful for their essential contribution.

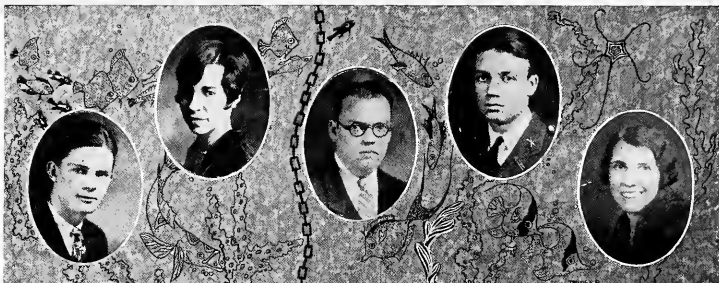

For the co-operation and valued assistance of all these associates in our common endeavor, the staff of The Viking unites in expressing its truest appreciation.

"A little tow-headed good-for-nothing. And mischief-making monkey from his birth."

CHARLES JOHNSTON

Entered from Fannin School, Golf Club, IV; Chemistry Club, IV; Norther Staff.

"To be the same when I'm alone As when my every deed is known."

KENNETH JOHNSTON

Entered from Bryan High School. Hi-Y, I; Library assistant; Sergeant in R. O. T. C.

Easy coming; easy going.

FRANCES JOHNSTON

Entered from Denton High School.
We like people that don't need to remind you they're around. There's a difference.

BILLY JONES

Entered from Milam School. Camp Dallas, II; Linz pin, I; 2nd Lieutenant R. O. T. C., IV; Radio Club, IV.

"When more earnest efforts are made, Billy will make them."

FREDNA MAE JONES

Entered from Vickery Place School. Re-entered from T. P. A.; III; Delphian Literary Society, I, II; Girl Scouts, I, II.

"Words may be deeds", Aesop says. If so, you'll be famous, Fredna Mae.

EMMA RUTH KENNEDY

Entered from Cedar Lawn School. Terpsichorean Club.

"Let the world learn how to smile from me."

ELWIN FRANCIS KENTON

Entered from Fannin School. Library assistant; Captain, R. O. T. C.

Elwin doesn't often wear a hat—we wonder if he could find one to fit.

HAZEL KIZER

Entered from Milam School. Spanish Club.
A girl who can be relied on at any time or place.

ROBERT M. KNIGHT

Entered from Sam Houston School. Chemistry Club, III, IV; Sergeant of R. O. T. C., I, II; Member of Social and News Committees of IV B Class; Member of two Crack Companies.

Our one and only "preddy boy". We're "tho" proud of him!

ELIZABETH KNIGHT

Entered from Shreveport High School. Chemistry Club, IV.

Elizabeth has proved to us the saying "time is not needed in making friends."

ERIN KNIGHT

Entered from Sam Houston School. Palette and Pen Club; Viking staff.

Erin could make a funny-paper artistic.

HELEN KOSACK

Entered from Sisters of St. Mary's. Delphian Literary Society, IV.

Her many friends testify to her fun-loving nature.

ALMA LAMAR

Entered from Fannin School. Vice-President Girl Reserves; Linz pins, I, II, III.

Have you ever noticed what pretty brown eyes she has?

HOWARD LANG

Entered from Vickery Place School. Major, R. O. T. C.; Business Manager of The Viking; Crack Companies, II, III; Camp Dallas, I, II, III; Hi-Y; Linz pins, I, II, III; Camp Dallas; Efficiency Medal, '24; Dad's Club.

Arrest him! It's Ponzi—he's going to make The Viking pay!

NOREIN LEWIS

Entered from Lubbock High School. President of Wyanang Camp Fire Girls; Chairman of Social Committee of Latin Club; Girl Reserves.

Brunette efficiency! What more could be desired?

ROLAND LEWIS

Entered from Lubbock High School. Latin Club; Secretary Radio Club; Sea Scouts; Boy Scouts; Assistant Scoutmaster Troop No. 66.

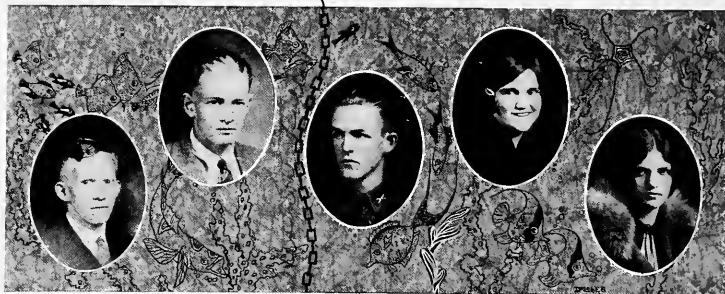

He's a good scout, my boy. Be prepared for something fine from him.

LOUISE LINGWILER

Entered from Fannin School. Linz pin, I; Reporter of Delphian Club, II, III; Commercial Club; Norther staff.

Louise may be small but she is certainly not insignificant.

CHARLES LISTER

Entered from Travis School. Glee Club, I; Hi-Y Club, IV; Officer Boy Scouts, I, II, III.

*"Thus he lived from day to day,
Doing what he found to do
In a cheerful sort of way."*

JAMES LOGAN

Entered from Houston School. Chemistry Club; 2nd Lieutenant, R. O. T. C.; Camp Dallas, II. His head is always among the stars.

HERMON LOLLAR

Entered from Vickery Place School. Camp Dallas, II; Crack Company, I, II, III, IV; Rifle Team, III; Second Lieutenant; Wozencraft Competition, II.

Did you ever hear him talk five minutes without stopping? Well, you never will.

MERLE LOUDON

Entered from Bryan Street High School. Chemistry Club; Vice-President of El Circulo Español; Northern staff; Terpsichorean Club.

Isn't Merle really the most true blue person you've ever met?

ANNETTE LUNA

Entered from Sam Houston School. What Next Club; Palette and Pen Club.

Like radio, she's rather modern and subtle and says it with waves.

WALTER LUNA

Entered from Sam Houston School. Secretary of T-Square Club, I; Sergeant, R. O. T. C.; Band, I; Drum & Bugle Corps, II; Crack Company; Thrift Agent, IV.

*"Along the cool, sequestered vale of life
He kept the noiseless tenor of his way."*

CHARLES MALONE

TWENTY-FIVE boys of the junior and senior classes compose the Hi-Y club of North Dallas High School. These boys realized one of the highest ambitions of nearly every high school student throughout the country when they joined the Hi-Y.

They also became part of an organization which has been established since 1889, an organization which has increased since that date until it now has a membership of over a million high school boys in America.

With its growth in numbers have grown its moral standards, until every Hi-Y boy graduating from school has had instilled into him the purity of the Hi-Y square—Mind, Body, Spirit, and Service. These graduates do not soon forget the Hi-Y. Once a year they meet again in the annual alumni banquet, given during the Christmas holidays. The affair is always a friendly, informal get-together in which old friends see each other once more. Other entertainments given each year are: the football boys' banquet, the father and son banquet, the best girl banquet, and the Mothers' Day banquet. These dinners are attended by all of the city clubs and are held at the main building of the Y. M. C. A.

Besides the special banquets, the regular suppers are held every Monday night by all the clubs. Mr. H. G. Spruce, the boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is chairman of these. Mr. Spruce always manages to arrange a program which is both interesting and inspiring.

After the joint session, the different clubs go to their meeting rooms with their sponsors. Mr. E. D. Walker has been the sponsor of the North Dallas Hi-Y for five years.

Mr. Walker's reputation as a speaker has already been established at North Dallas and it needs no elaborating. Suffice it to say that the club always looks forward to his comments and realizes their full benefits. Mr. Walker's talk usually follows the general discussion or the devotional for that evening. The devotional is prepared by two boys appointed by the president.

To listen to one of these devotionals given by a fellow club member is one of the most uplifting experiences that ever come into the life of a high school boy. Every student has a great many speeches made to him by school officials, preachers, and orators, but to have a fellow member tell him how he should improve is an event that leaves an impression.

Because such impressions are continually being made the Hi-Y is a constantly growing influence throughout the school. It is indeed fulfilling its purpose of creating, maintaining, and extending throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian citizenship.

THE Ayuzunta (linked together) Group of North Dallas High School was organized November 15, 1926, with Mrs. Gidrey as guardian. Camp Fire takes as its slogan the watchword "Wohelo", standing for Work, Health, and Love. It means good times, long hikes, interesting studies of nature, and the enjoyment of everyday tasks which before were dull and tiresome.

THE North Dallas High School Chemistry Club was founded in May, 1925. During the two years of its existence much has been gained by the officers and members from the programs presented, consisting of valuable experiments and the reading of papers. A program committee works out the programs, and the experiments and talks are assigned to various members. In this way the members play as vital a part as the officers and committees. Anyone in North Dallas who takes chemistry is eligible for membership. The members are kept in close relation with the club by a membership committee.

The Chemistry Club aims to promote a greater interest in chemistry among the students and to show them what an important part it plays in our lives. The club endeavors to present the primary laws and theories of chemical science, together with a body of practical information in order that the members may see the relation of chemistry to the progress and welfare of the world. Chemistry is a live subject, full of surprises and new discoveries. It is vital and interesting to humanity.

Experiments are performed that lead to definite explanations of questions that are likely to confuse the individual. Some of the interesting experiments carried out this year are: preparation of sulphuric acid, etching by nitric and hydrofluoric acids, hydrolysis of water, preparation of gun cotton, and the determination of the amount of involatile substances in Dallas hydrant water.

In 1926, at the invitation of the Parent-Teachers Association of North Dallas, the club entered the annual Club Carnival and ran a booth there. A booth will also be installed at the carnival this year. A play called "The Flattering Word", sponsored by Miss Ray, will be presented at North Dallas by members of the club. As yet the cast has not been chosen but tryouts will be held soon.

Plans for gold pins have been drawn and selected by the club. A symbol denoting chemistry is engraved on the face and surrounded by the club name. The guard will have the letters N. D. on it.

This year as the old members leave the club they leave the work to be taken up by the new ones and to be carried on. It is the earnest hope of the June '27 Seniors that the Chemistry Club will continue the work begun during the first two years.

THE Delphian Literary Society was organized in October 1923 for the purpose of mutual instruction and enjoyment.

The club membership is limited to fifty and in spite of the rule to drop members who have been absent three meetings without paying a fine or having a valid excuse, the club has not been able to elect new members for the past few months because of this limited membership.

Each year the girls who represent the school in declamation and debate have been members of the Delphian Literary Society. About twenty per cent of the members are on the honor roll.

The programs for the year are planned in advance by the program committee, advised by Miss Lucille Brown, the sponsor. Worthwhile programs are planned. Among those who spoke to the club this year were: Mr. Clyde Walton Hill, an instructor of English at North Dallas, who gave a review of his book of poems, "Shining Trails," and Miss Olatia Crane, Spanish instructor, who talked on "The Woman's Position in Mexico".

The Philosophian Literary Society

THE Philosophian Literary Society was one of the first clubs organized in North Dallas High School. The need of a live, democratic literary organization being perceived by some students of great foresight, this society came into existence. For the last five years it has prospered and prospered rightly, for it gives to its members a training which deserves recognition. Under the presidency of Joe Smiley the rights of membership were extended and the membership was doubled, a tribute both to the increasing desire for literary practice and training on the part of the student body, and to the progressive policy and program of the club. The purposes of the society are to promote initiative, resourcefulness, and self-possession among boys as future citizens and to develop ability in public speaking as the most useful instrument of service available to the educated American citizen of today. With these ideals and purposes always guiding it, the society now boasts of a membership larger than that of any other boys' club in the school, and of members second to none in their ability to excel in all lines of school and outside activity. The business of the club is carried on in an orderly and systematic manner. This gives one training along lines of parliamentary practices, the mastery of which we believe to be most vital in developing future citizens who can adeptly handle the reins of government. Extemporaneous speaking also plays an important part in the program of the club, for we realize that "there are tides in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood lead on to fortune." For just such crises is the society preparing its members. The Philosophian will feel that its mission has been accomplished, its purposes fulfilled, and its standards admirably upheld if it can send out its members as citizens well prepared to serve and protect the interests of society.

"What Next?" Club

THE "What Next?" Club has had a very successful year, and it has definitely accomplished something along the dramatic line. Under the supervision of our sponsor, Miss Ray, the club has presented two plays: "Just a Little Mistake," given on December 8, and "Blood Will Tell," presented at the entertainment given by the Mothers' Club on December 11. The purpose of the club is the study of the drama. Many interesting programs have been planned along this line.

The most successful social event given by the club was a luncheon at the Athletic Club given on December 31, during the Christmas holidays. The luncheon was indeed a delightful affair, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the twenty-six girls who were present.

The girls have shown an added amount of outside interest this year. With the money obtained from two candy sales and from the play presented, What Next? hopes to buy a glass-enclosed club bulletin board to leave as a permanent fixture to the school.

THIS year the Latin Club has been making rapid progress. The work is better organized, more attention is being paid to socials, and we have adopted a novel way of classifying our membership. Another improvement is that our male element is steadily increasing. We all feel that this is the best year the club has had, and hope that next year will be still better. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Myrtle Clopton.

SIGMA ALPHA NU was organized November 22, 1926, for the study of modern literature and dramatics. The club meets each Tuesday afternoon in room 107. The membership is limited to twenty-five active members, there being ten charter members. Two girls, Elizabeth Franklin and Helen Bastian, have served their pledgeship and were initiated this year. Pledges are taken at the beginning of each term and serve a pledgeship of six weeks. Membership is by invitation only. The club colors are apple-green and silver. A number of social affairs have been given and more are planned for next year. It is also the plan of the club to establish a library of modern books and plays for the benefit of members.

THE Perigon Club, the oldest club in North Dallas High School, has now finished its fifth year. It was organized for the study of mathematical topics not included in class room work, such as puzzles, chess problems, historical items, and applications in science and business.

Our club has been a social as well as a mathematical success. Many parties, picnics, and sunrise breakfasts have been enjoyed by our members.

THE North Dallas Parent-Teachers' Association was organized March 31, 1922, by sixty-six charter members, with Mr. E. B. Comstock as principal of the new school. Constant activity has characterized the growth of the P.-T. A. since that time.

The P.-T. A. has enjoyed a year of valuable contacts that should prove of lasting benefit to the association. The wonderful co-operation of home, school and community has been brought about by a sweet spirit of understanding, interesting programs on the adolescence age, entertainments in which the pupils took part, instructive talks by the teachers, and a sincere desire of the parents to do their part.

We participated in the work of the Dallas Council of Parent and Teacher Associations, pledged one life membership in the Dallas Council and one in the National Council. The national life membership was presented to our esteemed principal, Mr. E. B. Comstock.

The association has entertained the graduating classes, chaperoned parties, looked after the needs of our rest-rooms and grounds. On two occasions we have had as our luncheon guests the entire faculty. Lunches have been provided for needy pupils, work furnished both in the school and out for people anxious to earn means that would enable them to stay in school. The scholarship fund has a definite place in the association's budget; one scholarship will be awarded this year.

Back Row: Robert Foster, Bruce Tankel, Christine Maupine, Octavia Edwards, Nellie Harris, Roland Lewis, George Belleville.

The Latin Tournament

THE North Dallas delegation to the Latin Tournament held this year at Commerce, Texas, on the first of April, was unusually successful. When all the results were tabulated, it was found that North Dallas had won four first place individual prizes, two school prizes, a first place in the essay contest, and second place, third place, or honorable mention in several other classes.

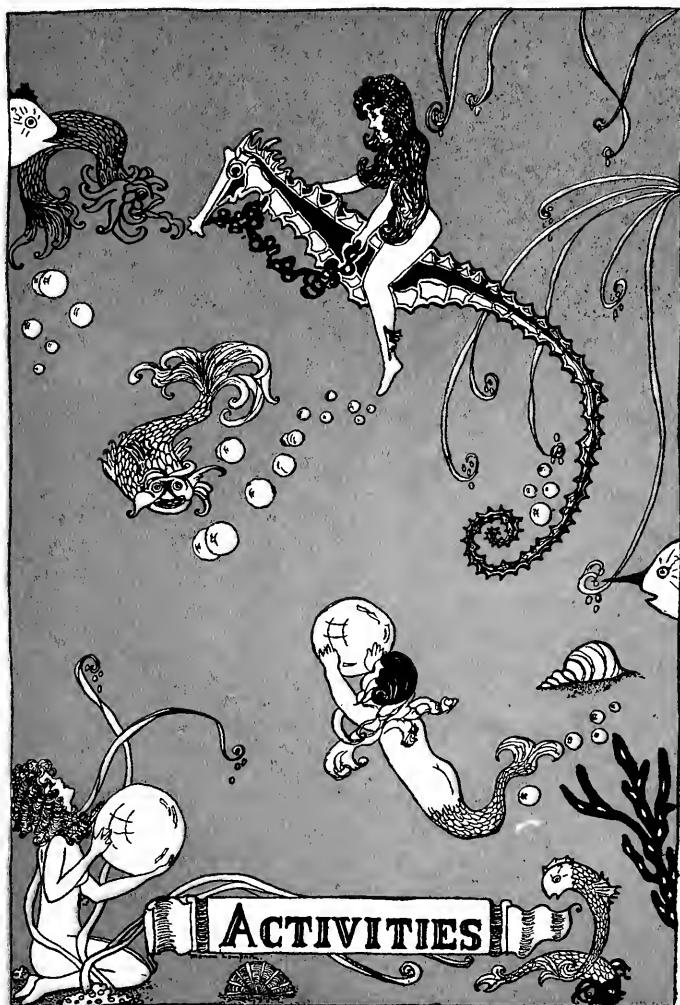

For the January beginners Mary Turner received honorable mention; her paper ranked second to that of the winner. For the irregular January beginners in Latin, Christine Maupine, a North Dallas Junior beginner, took first place. Christine further covered herself with glory with her essay, which won the first year essay prize. The first year prize for the best individual paper was won by Florence Turner, who last year won the January beginners' contest.

The highest honor in the second year contest George Belleville received. North Dallas' second year team, Nellie Harris and George Belleville, won the second year loving cup for the school. In the Cicero contest Evelyn Foreman took third place.

The fourth year individual honor was won by Dorothy Rose. The fourth year loving cup was won for North Dallas by Helen Coon and Dorothy Rose.

From the contest, North Dallas and the North Dallas contestants received much honor, pleasure, and profit. The Latin Tournament was first organized three years ago by Miss Miller of Forest Avenue High School. Since that time a meet has been held annually the first week in April. It entails a great amount of work for the community entertaining the delegates; so this year the North Texas district, including Dallas and Fort Worth, was divided into two divisions, one taking part in the contest at Commerce; the other, at Denton. The winning papers will be sent to be re-graded, and are eligible for state honors.

NOTE: Since the above was written, it has been learned, we are proud to say, that Dorothy Rose has won first place in the state in the fourth year Latin Essay Contest, and Christine Maupine has won first place in the state in the contest for Junior beginners.

WE believe that the school periodical should reflect the life of the school. Therefore, all important happenings of the school year should be chronicled fairly and with sufficient detail so that every student can have full knowledge of what is taking place in his school. It should be interesting to the entire student body and constructive in its effects.

The editorials should be pertinent to the times and definite in their objectives. Particularly they should be discussions of matters affecting the school and school life and deal with actual conditions and not with abstractions. They should be critical of conditions which need correcting, but should be constructive and tend to build the morale of the school.

The literary section is the backbone of the magazine. It is designed to develop budding talent and also to furnish stories and verse interesting to the student body. In order to approach these ideals it is necessary that the editor exercise care and discrimination, not only in judging the plot for stories but also that he require good workmanship and evidence of care in the preparation of the manuscript. Writing talent does not all run to fiction; therefore descriptive articles, essays, and criticisms should be encouraged and, where worth while, accepted for publication.

A paper should have as many illustrations and cuts as its finances will allow, because illustrations add to the interest of any magazine. It is also true that the quality of student drawing is generally better than the quality of student writing. It thus follows that the appearance and tone of the magazine is raised by appropriate art work.

Personals should be interesting and amusing, but without malice. As many students and teachers as possible should be given recognition, but nothing should be written which would give pain or cause embarrassment.

Jokes should be as funny as possible and the more they are based on actual school happenings, the more they further the purpose of the magazine in reflecting school life and the more interesting they are to the student body in general.

The tone of the magazine should be high but not high-brow. It should require the best ability of the student body, but it should not show the censorship or the revamping of faculty minds.

A school publication is not designed to make money, but it should be self-supporting. This is not always possible. But the thanks of the editor are due to the business manager and his staff for their fine co-operation. It is worthy of mention that during this year it was difficult for the school magazines in Dallas to maintain their advertising revenue to the level of 1926. The business staff of The Norther has come nearer to maintaining their volume than have the staffs of the other Dallas schools. The business staff this year did not consider their work done when they had turned in an advertisement, but several of them have contributed editorials and literary articles.

Last, we have commented on events and conditions as we saw them, but we have tried to justify the confidence which our principal has shown in our judgment. He has never asked to read Norther material in advance of publication.

THE VIKING—strong, fearless, determined, roving, freebooting sire of mighty nations—is typical of the icy Northland, capable of withstanding cruel blasts, perilous seas. Through these hardships, though ruthless in pursuit of his aims, he was not implacable, harboring no grudges, rendering kindness where kindness was due, honoring the truth. The Norseman honored his dead by Viking burial; the highest honor he could bestow on a warrior dead was thus to consign him to the sea surrounded by the symbols of his deeds on earth, by his treasures and his spoils.

The Viking publication we have endeavored to make the essence of North Dallas' spirit—a strong, fearlessly yet mercifully truthful chronicle of events in North Dallas, harboring no grudges, cherishing no prejudices, far-seeing, forward-looking into the great possibilities of the organizations, personalities, and achievements of those to whom North Dallas is more than a name. And to those traditions which have been outgrown, to those events which have passed, to those achievements which have been consummated, to the glories of our high school careers which are past, we tender Viking burial. The Valhalla of The Viking holds the records of the deeds of those who have fought a good fight—the seniors.

Yet throughout the book we have attempted to do justice to all the aspects of life in North Dallas, to discriminate against no phase, and against no group of students, but to present a true version of the work and interests, purposes and successes of her students and teachers. In the effort to attain this ideal, this standard, we have tried to let the North Dallas spirit of loyalty, honesty, tolerance, and enthusiasm pervade the pages of this publication.

The Viking—progressive, exploring, discovering—we have tried to emulate in making our Viking, with all due respect for old customs and traditions, progressive, and inclusive of improvements in style, in content, and in arrangement.

"The Crow's Nest," though it has long been in use among sailors as an observation point, is an innovation for the Viking ship. But from it one may get his bearing in a sea of troubles, for it is our humor section, and has been censored by the committees of the several crusades for "Shorter and Funnier Jokes," "Longer and Louder Laughs." In fact, it is the expression of the geniality of the old Vikings and of the fun-loving disposition noticeably prevalent among North Dallasites. It deeply grieves us to confess an anachronism—the jokes are absolutely not of the vintage of the years during which Lief Ericson sailed the fearful deep and Eric the Red broke his drinking-horn when for the first time he heard the anecdote about Pat and Mike in the subway.

And if in any measure The Viking has given you a better appreciation of your school and your associates, if you have enjoyed the record of 1926-'27, which we have presented you, if the picture The Viking portrays of life here be veracious, we are glad—and joyfully shall we hear your cry, "Skool to the Viking! Skool."

THE NORTH STAR is an attempt by the Girls' Council and Boys' Printing Club to establish a bi-weekly newspaper in the North Dallas High School. The first issue of the paper came out December 3, 1926. The most notable features of the first issue were the large headlines and the slogans on each side of the name. The large headlines were discontinued at the next issue, but the slogans remained. The first slogan was "Buy Thrift Stamps," an incentive not very necessary to the student body. The second was "Join a Club," and the third, "Beat Forest."

The news for this paper is gathered chiefly by members of the Girls' Council, while the printing and the sales are handled by the Printing Club. One of the best developed features is the personals.

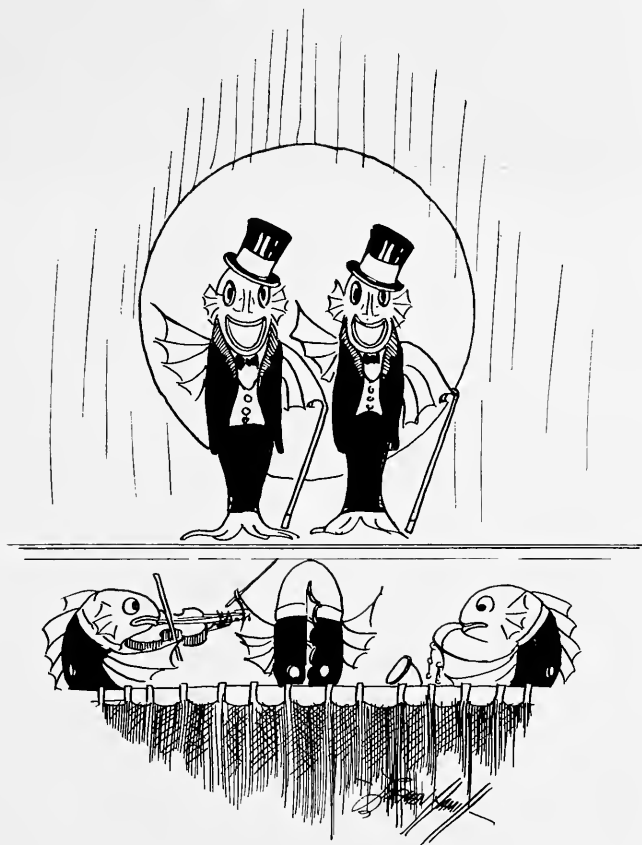

The Commercial Club Courier

EVERY year the North Dallas High School Commercial Club, under the sponsorship of Corine Greenwell, puts out a very creditable publication, The Commercial Club Courier. It is a significant piece of work because it shows the possibilities of the mimeograph in the hands of the the pupils. Unlike The Viking or The Norther, it is entirely a school product. All of the typing, the mimeographing, and stapling are done by the students themselves. The club last year purchased a mimeoscope to aid them in their work.

The combination of literary effort with mechanical work is like washing the dishes after you have eaten a meal. It is excellent training and a part of one's education. "Learn to do by doing" is a good motto.

DRAMATICS AND MUSIC

Seven Chances

ON Saturday evening, December 18, 1926, the North Dallas High School auditorium was well filled by an appreciative audience of friends of the school, to witness the presentation of "Seven Chances", a comedy drama, by the graduating class of January, 1927. Mr. C. W. Hill directed the play. There were fifteen in the cast, as follows:

Jimmie Shannon.....	David Mayer
Anne Windsor.....	Dorris Dillard
Billy Meekin.....	Frank Wolfe
Lily Trevor.....	Mary Daniel
Irene Trevor.....	Beulah McGhee
Henry Garrison.....	Alto Cervin
Mrs. Garrison.....	Manon Lampkin
Betty Willoughby.....	Ouida Gordon
Florence Jones.....	Lucille McGlathery
Earl Goddard.....	Warren Gravley
Joe Spence.....	Frank Heinen
Ralph Denby.....	Robert Hardy
George.....	Marvin Williams
Georgianna Garrison.....	Marie Walker
Peggy Wood.....	Margaret Wright

The leading parts, of Anne Windsor and Jimmie Shannon, were well presented by Dorris Dillard and David Mayer, respectively. Applause was generous, and there were requests for a repetition of the play.

The story centered around Jimmie Shannon, who had suddenly been left a huge fortune on condition that he be married by his thirtieth birthday; as this was but two days off, and the young man was as yet not in love, it was time for Cupid to get busy. This he did, with Billy Meekin—delightfully acted by Frank Wolfe—as his Chief Assistant and General Arranger. Several of the girls brought into the scene were evidently fortune hunters; but the right girl, the one who loved Jimmie for himself instead of for his fortune, won in the end.

Unusually attractive furniture and stage decorations and pot plants were lent by the Winn Furniture Company, Texas Furniture Company, Sanger Brothers, and the Lang Floral Company.

AS THE VIKING goes to press, the cast, consisting of June Seniors, is very busy preparing to present "Step Lively", a two-act mystery play, on the night of May 6 and to repeat it on the following night.

The plot of the play centers around Mr. Joseph Billings, a mill owner and president of a trust company. Mr. Billings and a Mr. Hinkley in earlier days had worked for the owner of a Mexican ranch, a Mr. Henry Merideth. Mr. Merideth fell sick of a fever and died. He was not known to have any heirs; so Mr. Billings and Mr. Hinkley took charge of his ranch. Billings took advantage of Mr. Hinkley and sold the ranch when the latter was away on business. He took the money and fled to Benham, Massachusetts, where he established a mill. After years of prosperous business John Merideth, an unknown son of Henry Merideth, appeared and tried to get some evidence from Mr. Billings as to his identity and made numerous attempts to steal some papers from him. He was aided by Mr. Hinkley, who had discovered Billings' whereabouts. Mr. Billings suffered such mental strain that it soon began to tell on him. His secretary engaged a detective without Mr. Billings' knowledge, and in a very exciting way she brought about the solution of the affair to the satisfaction of everyone.

Mr. C. W. Hill is the director.

The North Dallas Minstrel

EVERY year in the history of North Dallas, a minstrel has been given for the benefit of the athletic fund. This year saw the sixth annual presentation: one that will long be remembered as perhaps the funniest of all shows ever staged at North Dallas.

There was not a stale joke in the entire affair, and the good-natured little slams about the faculty caused all kinds of glee among the students. Most of these witticisms were passed out by the end men, while the circle furnished the chorus and a few solos by Frank Whitney, Roger Harris, and Matt Allender. Other members of the circle were: Ed Haltom, O. J. Finney, Lawrence Barnes, Herbert Sapp, Ed Moeller, A. T. Hall, William Lee Hall, George McClure, Bill Lowry, Jimmie McMains, Mark Terrell, Walter Cervin, Joe Bradley, and Hiram Knox. The business staff consisted of Inge Grant, Floyd Blewett, Ralph Fatheree, Albert Spillers, and Mike Scurry. Mr. E. D. Walker was the director again, and he also demonstrated in the second act how well an old negro could really sing.

Two other acts were on the program. The first and longest was mainly a conversation between Cornelius Olcott, the interlocutor, and the end men: Wray Hicks and J. C. Smith, Bud Young and H. G. Travers. It was entitled "The Alabama Chefs"—and how well these chefs knew how to season their humor! The last act was in the order of a singing dance, done by six exuberant darkies and their wives. Their wives, by the way, had a startling masculine appearance; however, their sex in no wise affected their humor, and they made a highly entertaining end to a highly entertaining minstrel.

IN THE city series of the state one-act play contest held under the supervision of the Inter-scholastic League at the Y. W. C. A. February 24, North Dallas was represented by a cast presenting Booth Tarkington's melodramatic comedy, "Bimbo, the Pirate". Due to the sincere efforts of Miss Ray, the director, and hard work of the cast, an interesting and effective portrayal of the moral aspect of the early American buccaneer was presented in a picturesque setting.

Throughout the play there was an excellent atmosphere of mystery and suspense which added materially to its success. Although Bryan High with a strong play, "The Valiant," won first place in the competition, everyone agreed that "Bimbo" was produced in fine style which as a whole was above the average for high school plays. The cast received much favorable comment for their perfect ensemble acting.

Rings in the Sawdust

"RINGS IN THE SAWDUST," an operetta, was presented by students of the music and the physical training departments of North Dallas High School on the night of January 22, and was repeated on Thursday afternoon of the next week. The directors were Misses Ruth Curtis, music; Gladys Ray, dramatics; Mae Morrison, dancing. Evelyn Foreman was the accompanist. Dorothy Thomas and Frank Whitney played the leading roles.

The Flattering Word

"THE FLATTERING WORD," a one-act comedy by George Kelley, was chosen by the play committee of the North Dallas Chemistry Club as their first play. The theme is —tell anyone that he should be on the stage and he is willing to do as you want him to. Those in the cast were: Scott Bruce, Charles Long, Mary Netterville, Marjorie Connell, and Betty Lou Zimmerman.

Spanish Declamation Contest

AT THE annual Spanish Fiesta held by the Spanish departments of the high schools of Dallas it is the custom to have a declamation contest in Spanish poetry. In this contest, originated by our Mr. Tardy, the city schools compete for a large loving cup offered by Dr. W. W. Shortal. On the night of January 20, 1927, at Bryan Street High School, this cup was won for North Dallas by Jimmie Parker, giving the "Cancion del Pirata" by José de Espronceda. This cup was taken from Sunset High School who won it last year, and it will have to be won two more times by North Dallas before it can remain permanently in our trophy case.

Interscholastic Declamation Contest

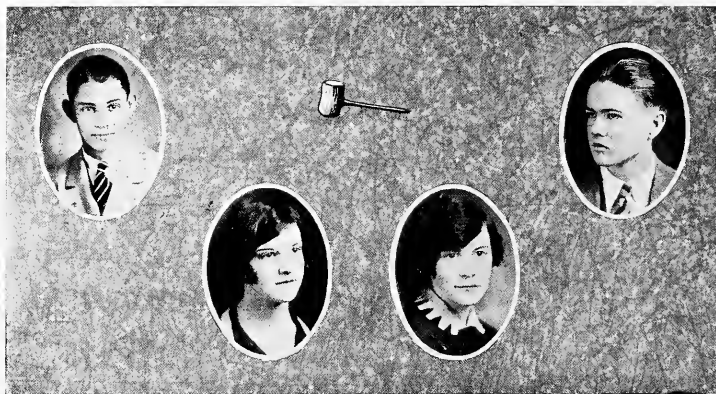

WEDNESDAY, March 16, 1927, after school, six candidates entered the elimination contest. All declamations had carefully been selected as was evident by the talent shown. The contest was very close indeed and the three judges taxed their ability in choosing the two representatives. Those who entered the tryout were: Alliene Brandon, William Rembert, Alex Courtney, Joe Doris Hooper, Marjorie Connell, and Langford Shaw.

In the city contest each high school is represented by one girl and one boy. The contestants must select their declamations from speeches of prominent men on the general subject of Americanism.

Under the coaching of Miss Gladys Ray the two representatives, Alliene Brandon and Langford Shaw, prepared for the city contest held Tuesday night, March 22, 1927, at Oak Cliff High School. Alliene, who won second place, is a forceful speaker and demonstrates that she has carefully studied the art of public speaking. She is excellent in enunciation, clarity, emphasis, and delivery. Langford also gives promise of becoming an effective speaker.

NOTE: Since the above accounts were written, The Viking has learned that Charles E. Long of North Dallas has the distinction of being city champion in the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest.

AS a result of the elimination in boys' debating held the evening of March 29, the boys' debating team was selected. George Heath and Loren Warren were chosen to represent North Dallas in the City Debating Contest to be held at Forest High School, April 20. Graber Kidwell was named alternate. The question for debate selected and approved by the Interscholastic League was—Resolved: That a United States Department of Education Should Be Established with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet. Loren Warren was the alternate last year. Both members of the team assure the school that they will put forth their very best efforts in an attempt to win the city championship for North Dallas and to represent the school in the district meet at Denison.

Girls' Debating Team

THIS year's debating team for girls is composed of Janet Andrews and Mildred Munnerlyn. Mildred, a member of last year's team, has proved herself a finished speaker and seems to have every requisite of a great public speaker. Janet, a newcomer to North Dallas, has already shown that she is a clear, deep, conservative thinker. Last year she represented one of the Fort Worth high schools in the State Debate.

Practice debates have been held with Highland Park High School and with the Hubbard City High School. In the former our girls lost with the decision of 2-1 in favor of the Highlanders. Not discouraged by this defeat, but stimulated for harder work, they succeeded in tying the visiting representatives from Hubbard City. With these and several other practice debates in the near future, our girls will be fully prepared for the City Elimination Debate Contest which will be held in Dallas on April 15.

NOTE: Since the above was written, the North Dallas girls won first place in the All-City Contest.

The P.-T. A. Senior Skating Party

THE Parent-Teacher Association seized upon this winter's innovation in outdoor sports to give one of the most delightful Senior parties ever enjoyed by North Dallas High students. Both Senior classes were invited to an ice-skating party at Gardner Park on the evening of January the twenty-seventh. A happier time was never spent by boys and girls. Many went out the day before and were instructed in this new-to-Dallas art of ice skating and were extremely happy in exhibiting their skill. Those who couldn't skate slid around on the ice and made merry with their bumps and bruises and had just as good a time as the real skaters had.

The committee on arrangements is due the thanks of the unusually large number of Seniors who accepted the invitation. Let us hope that next year's Seniors will be as fortunate as we, and have as good a time.

Many parents attended the party, also, and dispensed piping hot cocoa to warm up the skaters and crumbly doughnuts to delight their taste.

Delphian Party

THE Delphian Literary Society gave a party Friday night, March 18, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. J. Simmons, 2512 McKinney Avenue, for the members and their escorts. The club hostess was Doss Luitwieler. There were seventeen tables of Bunco.

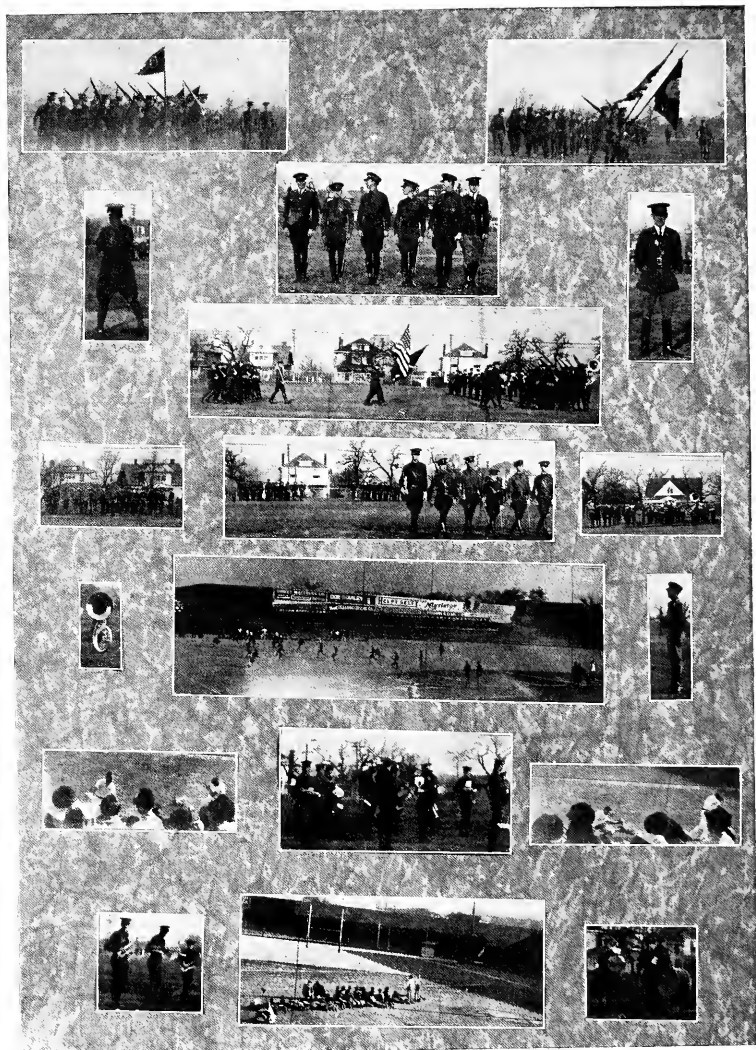

The decorations carried out the St. Patrick Day colors of green and yellow, which are also the club colors.

Refreshments, which also carried out the yellow and green color scheme, were served to seventy-two guests.

Prizes were given to the following: first prize for girls, Frances Bramblett; first prize for boys, Edwin Nesbit; second prize for girls, Mary Netterville; second prize for boys, Carroll Cox, and consolation prize, Aliene Brandon.

The S. O. S. Skating Party

A SKATING party was given at the Ice Palace from 10 to 12 p. m., December 28, by the S. O. S. Club. The club, consisting of Mary Katherine Boone, Elizabeth Gough, Martha Van Zandt, Esther Norris, Lucy Virginia Treadwell, Mary Walton, Mary Bruss, were hostesses to over three hundred guests.

The All-City Publications Dinner-Dance

ON the evening of February 10, the members of all the publication staffs of each of the five Dallas high schools and Highland Park High School met jointly at a dinner-dance in the Junior Ballroom of the Jefferson Hotel.

A very representative crowd was present, which was entertained in an exceptionally pleasant manner. The program consisted of six numbers, one number being rendered by a representative from each of the six schools.

This dinner was planned for the purpose of creating a friendship among the members of the different staffs. Its success was so phenomenal that it was definitely decided to make the meeting an annual affair.

Activities of El Circulo Español

EL Circulo Español, the Spanish Club of North Dallas High School, had on its programs during the past year many Spanish people, among whom may be mentioned Senor Garcia, of the University of Dallas; Senor Guern, pastor of the Mexican Methodist Church, and Senor Rodriguez, of the Mexican Presbyterian Church.

The club has also had the opportunity of hearing the Tipica Orchestra, composed entirely of Mexicans.

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to increase the students' interest in Spanish as well as to offer a diversion from the regular class work.

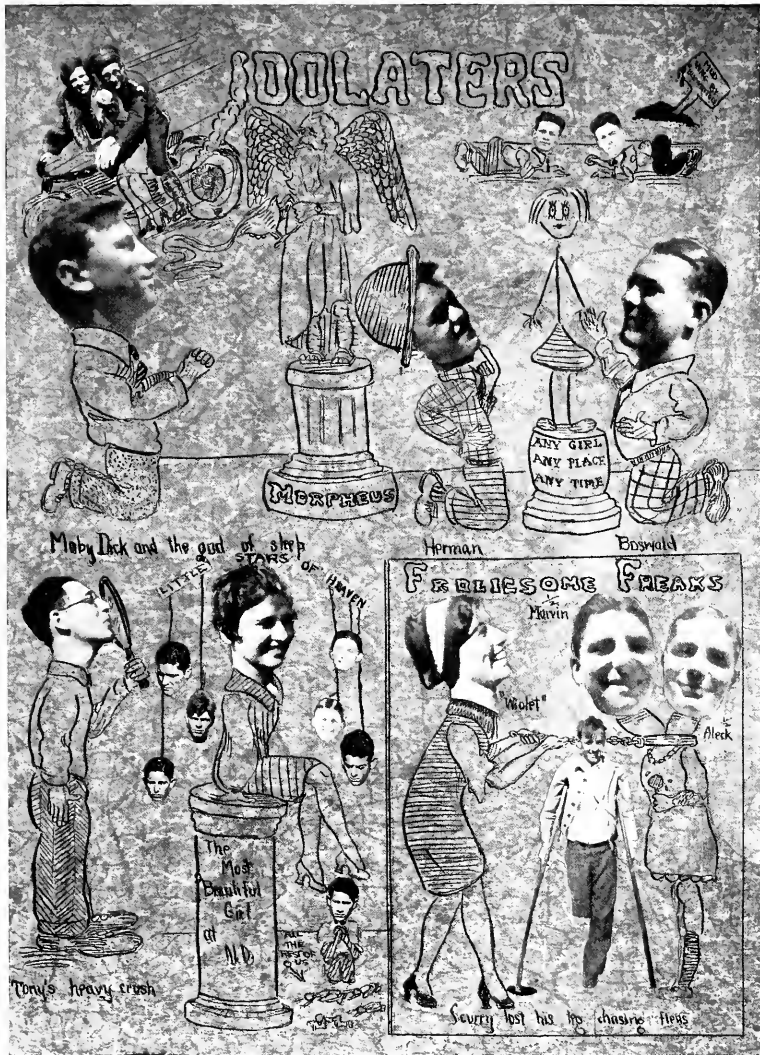

El Circulo Español has given marshmallow roasts, theater parties, dances, and fiestas, all held in a genuine Spanish atmosphere. Several times the members were the guests of other schools at suppers. The biggest supper of this kind was given by Sunset High School at "La Hora Azul". On several occasions tamale feasts have been partaken of. By far the most interesting of these was the one held at Bachman's Dam. The entertainment on this occasion was furnished by Mr. Tardy's tamale-eating dog, named Toots.

On April the seventh the students of the IVB and IVA classes in Spanish of all the high schools had in Little Mexico a banquet at El Fenix Cafe. This entertainment was by far the most elaborate held during the year.

"What Next?" Picnic

ON April 1 the "What Next?" girls came to school clad in gingham dresses and hair ribbons, symbolizing the idea of foolishness. One will have to admit it was an unusual sight to see the girls once more adorned in gingham dresses.

After school the girls had a picnic at Bachman's Lake. And as usual "a good time was had by all."

MAJOR D. K. LANSING

SERGEANT J. BULLOCH

MAJOR DUDLEY KENNETH LANSING

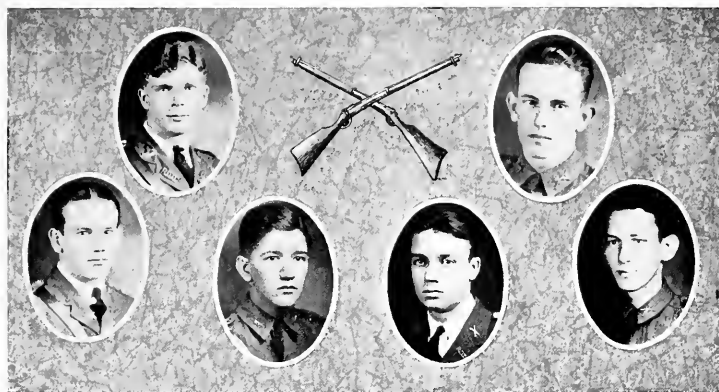

Major Lansing has been in the service of the United States army for twenty-two years and at North Dallas since the beginning of the school. During these years Major has seen all kinds of service in different places. In his work in Texas, he was Commandant of the Garden Military Academy at San Antonio, organizer of the first Texas National Guards (receiving a commission of captain in this company) and assistant commandant at the West Texas Military Academy.

Major Lansing has served in two wars. He was sent to the border at the outbreak of the Mexican War and was commander of a battery in the World War, going across with the advance detachment of the 36th Division. After he had taken a course of artillery and instructed awhile, he was made a regimental adjutant of the 16th Field Artillery and remained with this division during the rest of the war.

Major Lansing saw his home shores again after the Armistice, but he was not stationed in Dallas until 1921. Since then, every cadet in North Dallas has known his sincerest interest and unceasing co-operation.

STAFF SERGEANT JOHN BULLOCH

It is from Sergeant Bulloch that the cadets receive most of their technical military education. Sergeant is such an authority in this line that boys taking military training readily accept what he says and believe that what he does not know, isn't true. Most of his knowledge has been gained from practical experience, for Sergeant has been in the United States army for sixteen years and during that time has risen to the rank of first lieutenant in the reserves. He has been at North Dallas since the organization of the school, and during that time he has proved himself a capable instructor and has become well liked by every cadet.

Student Staff

THE staff, made up of the best and most conscientious officers of the corps, has very ably accomplished the task of handling our Battalion. Becoming a staff officer is dependent upon the cadet's ability and willingness to work. It is a rank to which many aspire but which few attain and it is for that reason that we are giving our staff due praise.

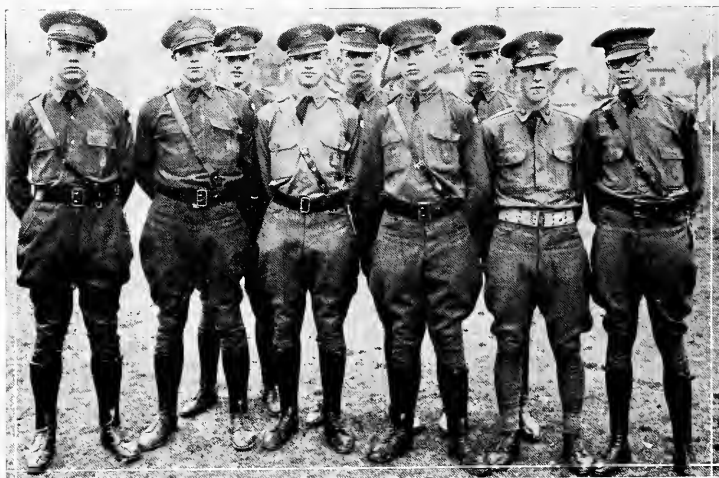

The officers in the staff by example and a sincere spirit keep the Battalion at the peak of efficiency. To the present staff fell the job of whipping the largest Battalion in the history of our school into shape and making it one of the best. The progress made is to be highly commended.

It is a pleasant thrill to watch the staff review the Battalion, for we know that it is in this way that a check is made on the efficiency of the Battalion as a whole.

The staff members are proud of the cadets of the Fourth Battalion for the way in which they have worked this year.

The Crack Company

This year the Viking goes to the printers before the results of the competitive drill to be held in the Automobile Building this spring have been determined, but we feel safe to say that the contestants will find a determined rival in North Dallas.

Company A

Company A, under the leadership of Captain Kidwell, Lieutenants Hall and Rountree, has done some good work this year.

The VIKING

Company B

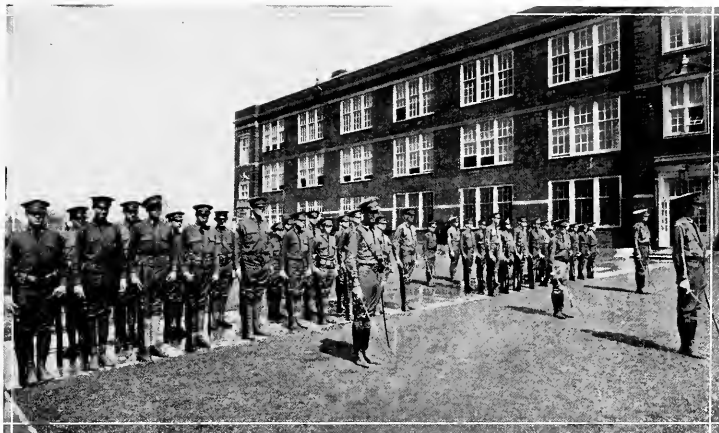

Second term this year, Company B has been ably commanded by Edward Bristow, who has demonstrated what a marked improvement can be made by the training of a green company. The platoons of the company are efficiently handled by 2nd Lieutenant Jack Kuttner, and 2nd Lieutenant William Moore.

Company C

The third period has always turned out a crack company at North Dallas. This year has proved no exception. Captain Albert Spillers with the aid of Captain Billy Jones and 1st Lieutenant Francis McGinis has developed an organization that made a mark.

The VIKING

Company D

Company D is out the same period as Company E, and one seems as good as the other. Captain Davis Crow is taking a post-graduate course, and he certainly seems to have learned how to handle a company. He is assisted by 1st Lieutenants H. J. Fisher and Howell Watson.

Company E

Captain Tony Alfieri has demonstrated in Company E that horn-rimmed spectacles are no detriment in the way of making a company well organized. 1st Lieutenant Verner McCullough, 1st Lieutenant Leonard Huffines, handling the platoons out the seventh period, are helping him in an expert manner.

Company F

Company F drills the eight period, when the average boy does not have much energy. But this does not seem to affect its efficiency. At any rate, Captain Charles Moore, 1st Lieutenant Howard Sigler, and 2nd Lieutenant Paul Young have a first class military unit.

Company G

All of the freshmen, practically, have been allotted to Company G, but this green material does not seem to have hindered Captain Manly Carter in the least. He has transformed, with the help of Captain Richard Allison and 2nd Lieutenant Albert Trotter, a group of untrained civilians into one of the best companies in the school.

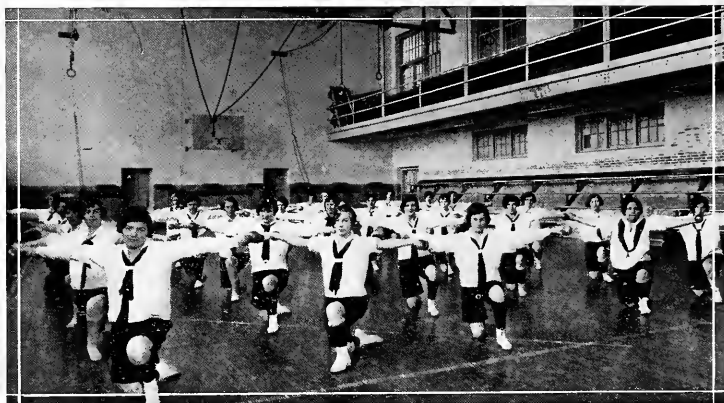

Apparatus Work

The North Dallas gym is equipped with nearly every type of modern apparatus. There are climbing ropes, rings, acting bars, dumb-bells, Indian clubs, jumping ropes, every kind of balls (basket balls, footballs, baseballs, tennis balls, and volley balls). In the course of one week practically every type of gymnastic work is engaged in.

Archery

Archery was introduced this year for the first time in the history of North Dallas, by Miss Morrison. The girls have taken keen interest in the work; each one is determined to hit the "bull's eye". However, only a very few have succeeded; but we know that we shall improve rapidly since we have practice once a week out in the armory.

Floor Work in IA Class

In order to have variety in floor work dumb-bells are occasionally used. In this IA class the work is scheduled by the week; the time is divided in proportion to the benefits derived from the varied forms of gymnastic work. The girls are instructed in formal and informal gymnastics, rhythmic exercises and dancing, games, and swimming.

Swimming

North Dallas is very proud of the fact that she is the only school in the city that has a swimming pool. This pool is open the entire school year to all girls taking gym. Each class may swim on Tuesdays and Fridays. This gives each gym girl a variety of exercise and aids in her physical development.

Our Yell Leaders

NO football team can win without the proper co-operation from the student body, and no students can yell without real, honest-to-goodness yell leaders behind them.

This year we have been extremely lucky in having four regular yell leaders: Seymour Hootkins, Bud Young, Porter Ellis, and George McClure.

Seymour, a new-comer to school, certainly has shown that Texas doesn't have a corner on all the pep in the country. Who has heard that "All ready now, gang" without feeling fully capable of bursting his lungs?

Porter graduated in January, but he certainly succeeded in pepping us up while he was here.

Bud Young is one of the most inspiring and best-loved yell leaders North Dallas has ever had—out there with the little old orange and white megaphone.

George McClure made a good enough yell leader this year—and indications are he'll be a still better one next year. Anyway, he can't show much more pep, without splitting his throat or dislocating his wrist.

OAK CLIFF

The first 1926 city championship game was played when the North Dallas High Bulldogs met the Oak Cliff Leopards. The Bulldogs fought hard to win, but the outstanding work of Lumpkin, Oak Cliff quarter, prevented the Bulldogs from leaving the stadium with the large end of the score.

The Bulldogs made their last points in the last quarter. Oak Cliff made a touchdown in the first quarter, two in the third, and one in the fourth. Even though defeated, the North Dallas gridders played a very good offensive game. The outstanding Bulldogs were Rechenberg and Currin. The score was North Dallas 18—Oak Cliff 28.

FOREST AVENUE

North Dallas played her fastest game when the Bulldogs met the Forest Lions. The game was very fast from the start, the first quarter ending with the ball on North Dallas' four-yard line. In the second quarter the Bulldogs revived their fighting spirit and fought the Lions back from the North Dallas goal.

The Foresters made their only score of the game late in the second quarter when Puckett plunged the line for a touchdown. Hodde's effort to kick goal was blocked.

In the third quarter North Dallas lost another chance to score when Clark fumbled near Forest's goal line.

The Bulldog players determined to score in the fourth quarter and toward the last of the period opened an aerial attack which would have been successful had not Father Time brought the game to a close. The Bulldogs pulled several long passes from Rechenberg to Malone and then a short one and had the ball on Forest's nine-yard line when the whistle blew.

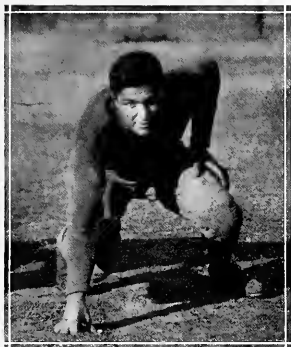

Rechenberg played his best game by demonstrating his ability to pass accurately a great distance, while Malone's easy going, smooth way of receiving passes was a revelation. Lemonds also played the best game of his career against the Forest Lions.

BRYAN STREET

The Bulldogs defeated the Bryan Wolves by unleashing an aerial attack that the Wolves could not stop. Through a luck play in the first part of the game the Bryan High players obtained their only score. This game was very exciting throughout and much credit should be given the back-field for their excellent work throughout the entire game, especially Rechenburg whose passing was practically unsurpassable. The game ended with the Bulldogs holding the large end of the score much to the surprise of the Wolves, for they had come upon the field resolved to defeat the Bulldogs.

As usual the defense work of Morrison and Brown was outstanding, for they fought hard the entire time they were in the game.

Phillips turned in a good game for the back-field. He didn't play long on account of an injury received in a previous game.

SUNSET

The fighting North Dallas Bulldogs entered their final game of the season determined to pile up their largest score against the Sunset Bisons. The Bison team was light, which handicapped them so that they were unable to win. In the first few minutes of play no progress was made by either team. Near the close of the first quarter Currin stiff-armed his way fifteen yards for a touchdown. Rechenberg kicked goal.

In the second and third periods the Bulldogs piled up more scores which seemed to take the heart out of the Bison players.

In the fourth period the Bison spirit was revived and they were determined to score against us. "Football" Moore, Bison player, made a very brilliant twenty-yard run in the last quarter that gave the Bisons their only score of the game. To better the Bisons the Bulldogs made three touchdowns in the final period.

The outstanding Bulldog players were Currin, Hall, and Carter. Moore played exceptionally well for the Bisons.

We shall miss these players next year.

POLYTECHNIC

The Bulldogs won the first inter-city clash by defeating Polytechnic High of Fort Worth. The Fort Worth team made a whirlwind start by kicking a field goal in the first five minutes of play.

Schermerhorn played a top-notch game during the entire time of the battle. He could not be stopped by the Poly team. The harder they tried to stop him, the better he played. The passing was commendable through Orange and White was very substantial throughout. In fact, our Bulldogs game. Crowley, playing his first year for North Dallas, also played a fine game.

out the game. The line of the were in their true form in that

Points were made in all four quarters by North Dallas and the score ended 20-3 with the Orange and White on top.

CENTRAL HIGH

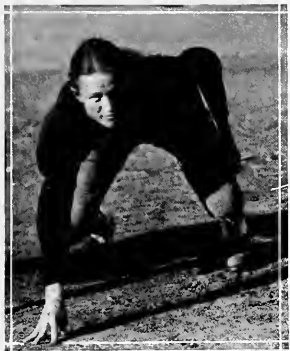

Coach Oehler's Bulldogs added their sixth victory by defeating the strong Central High School of Fort Worth on Saturday, November 20. The Panthers had developed an aerial attack with which they hoped to defeat the Bulldogs, but they soon found it useless. The outstanding event of the game was when Currin, North Dallas' half, intercepted a pass and sprinted ninety-five yards for a touchdown. Rechenberg kicked goal. Rechenberg, the Bulldog captain, intercepted a pass and ran four yards for the second touchdown. The extra point was gained. The other six points were obtained by kicking two field goals, perfect kicks, one from the thirty-eight yard line. Lemonds was taken from the game late in the first half with a fractured shoulder. Currin, Rechenberg, Brown, and Smith turned in one of their best games. The game ended with the score North Dallas, 20 and Central High, 0.

NORTH SIDE

The Bulldogs on Friday, November 5, added another victory to their long line of success by defeating the North Side High eleven from Fort Worth. The first half ended with the score, 0 to 0. The Bulldogs went into the final quarter of the game holding the small end of a 7 to 6 score. The North Siders scored when Malone, Bulldog end, downed a punt kicked by Lemonds and left it before the referee's whistle blew, and Able, the Steer's right end, picked up the ball and raced sixty yards for a touchdown. Early in the last quarter Malone picked up the ball, a fumble by a Steer back, and raced forty-five yards for a touchdown. Rechenberg kicked goal. The next two touchdowns came easily after an exchange of points. Rechenberg scored and kicked goal. Carter ran thirty yards to make the fourth touchdown when a blocked Steer punt was knocked into his hand. The game ended with the Bulldogs holding the large end of a 27-7 score.

Clark and Caswell, playing their first year, showed up well against the North Siders.

HIGHLAND PARK

The Bulldogs played their first game on a wet field Friday when they met the Highlanders of Highland Park High School. The game was very slow due to the condition of the field, but it at times became very interesting. The game was won in the second quarter when Rechenberg passed to Currin, who made a fifteen yard run to the goal line. Due to the ball's being wet, Rechenberg failed to kick goal. In the first quarter Diffey stiff-armed his way down the field for 85 yards and a touchdown, but the play was nullified when the referee called both sides offside.

Morrison and Diffey were the stellar players for the Bulldogs. The score was North Dallas 6—Highland Park 0.

OAK CLIFF

The Bulldog quintet ventured into Leopard territory Friday, January 14, and defeated the Oak Cliff five to the score of 18 to 13. The Bulldogs held the lead the entire game, having 5 points to Oak Cliff's 3 in the first quarter and 7 points to Oak Cliff's 4 at the half. The third quarter North Dallas gained 9 more points to Oak Cliff's 6, making the final score 16 to 10. The game was slow as it was the first of the season; nevertheless it was very exciting. The stellar players of the game were: Malone, center, and Diffey, forward; the shooting of Faulk, forward, was exceptionally good.

We were very proud of our victory over Oak Cliff.

FOREST AVENUE

The Forest Avenue High five wandered across town Tuesday, January 18, to engage the North Dallas quintet in battle. The score was very close during the entire game. The game climaxed in the third quarter when the score was tied with only a few seconds to play. The Lions would ring up a score, putting themselves in the lead, and then the Bulldogs would return with another which tied the score. In the last few seconds of play Forest scored, thereby giving the Lions 24 points to North Dallas' 22. Diffey and Charlie were the outstanding Bulldog players.

Although we lost the game, we were proud of our team.

Diffey graduated at mid-term and we surely miss him.

BRYAN STREET

The Bulldogs received the Bryan High Wolves Friday, January 21, and defeated their friendly enemies in a very close game much like the Forest game, but not quite so hotly contested. The Wolves fought hard, as they had aspired to win the City Championship, and they might have been well on their way had not the Bulldogs defeated them to the score of 21 to 18. Faulk and Crowley were again placed in the limelight due to their exceptional playing.

Faulk, our captain and a member of the all-city team, surely showed his skill at tossing baskets.

SUNSET

When the Bulldogs wandered out on the plains to play the Sunset Bisons they were handed a great surprise in the way of a defeat. The sun shone upon the court with such brilliance that the game was slowed down considerably. The outstanding player of the day was Faulk who ran up 15 of the 21 points gained by North Dallas. Sunset turned loose a bag of tricks and hard playing that netted them 25 points. The Bulldogs left the court resolved that never again would they lie down before the Bison.

This game helped Faulk considerably in retaining his position as one of the highest scorers in the city.

OAK CLIFF

The second game with Oak Cliff was played on the home courts of the Bulldogs. The Leopards had improved their game greatly since their last meeting, and therefore the game was much faster than the first. The many sensational shots made the game very exciting throughout. The Bulldogs ran up 26 points to the Leopards' 22 points. This defeat put the Leopards out of the running as far as winning first place in the City Series was concerned. Crowley and Faulk were the outstanding players throughout the game.

Crowley, who was playing his first year with us, surely helped us out.

CECIL CROWLEY

FOREST AVENUE

The second Forest game was much like the first, in that the Lions went away with the large end of the score. The second Forest game was played on the Forest court. The Bulldogs fought hard to defeat the Lions, for they knew that if they won, the series would be a tie; but as the Lions won, it placed the Lions in the lead and the Bulldogs in second place.

The game ended with the Bulldogs holding 16 points to the Lions' 20 points. Hardy and Crowley were the outstanding Bulldog players of the game.

Although this was our second defeat by Forest, Crowley showed up well enough to win a berth on the all-city team.

BRYAN STREET

The Bulldogs went to Bryan High Tuesday, February 8, and dealt the Wolves another defeat. The Wolves fought hard to prevent the Bulldogs from defeating them a second time, but the Bulldogs fought with all the characteristics of their symbol and made the Wolf to lie down along side of the other conquered foes. The game was fast and interesting throughout, rising even to a high pitch of excitement when several of the long sensational shots were made. At the end of the game, North Dallas had 21 points to Bryan's 13 points. Hardy and Crowley led the field for the exceptional playing of the day.

SUNSET

When the North Dallas High Bulldogs met the Sunset Bisons on their home court Tuesday, February 15, in the final game of the season, they were determined to defeat the Bison to such an extent that there would be no doubt in the minds of the public as to which was the superior team. The game started with the Bulldogs fighting like a whirlwind by ringing up a basket immediately after the bell rang. The North Dallas five continued the same style of playing throughout the game and only allowed the Bisons to obtain an occasional score. The game ended with the Bulldogs far in the lead, having 42 points to the Bisons' 16 points. Fritz and Hardy played exceptionally well throughout the entire game.

Although Fritz began as a substitute, he surely showed his ability as a player.

MINOR SPORTS

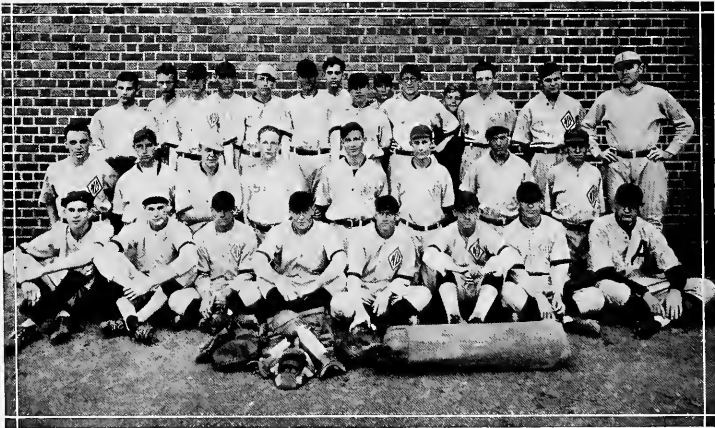

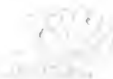

Baseball

WITH a squad composed almost entirely of rookies it is hard to predict anything at all in regard to the outcome of the baseball season. There are about twenty-five men trying out for the squad, but of that number only three are letter men, Harold Dietrick, Herman Dietrick, and Fritz Rechenberg.

There is, however, a real Bulldog spirit in the entire squad and with such fight and competition as is being loosed each afternoon on Viking Field our hopes are gradually "taking off" and rising higher every day.

Behind the bat Willie Joe Carter and Bennett Hardy are showing well with two very capable substitutes in Jesse Wetsel and Rhea O'Connor. For pitchers there are four likely prospects, consisting of Fritz Rechenberg, Joe Hardy, John D. Reed, Charles Cobb, and A. T. Hall. First base is being held down well by Jimmie Faulk, with Graber Kidwell, John Clark, Charles Herron, and Earl Horn making things hot for Jimmie. At second we have an entire "covey" of aspirants led by Thomas Reede and Lawrence Hardon with W. R. Mosby and Kenneth Johnston coming in as close seconds. At third base Albert Hawes is playing a nice game, but has some real competition in Houston Musgrove and Jack Caston. Shortstop is the scene of much "fire." Tom Hopkins, the Amarillo flash, is stepping on the gas and Roy Jacobie isn't very far behind. Wilbur Jones is also hustling for a bid at shortstop. In the outfield we have the Dietrick family composed of Harold, Herman, and William, with Lawrence Barnes, H. G. Travers, Fred Turner, and Henry Shepherd.

Volley Ball

Volley ball is one of the sports about which the advanced gym class has been most enthusiastic this year. The class has been divided into two teams, the Orange, with Violet Hudgins as captain, and the White, with Elizabeth Pepple as captain. At the end of twelve games the Orange team came out victorious, with a lead of three games.

The teams are made up of the following girls:

ORANGE

VIOLET HUDGINS
HARRIET VAN WINKLE
ESTHER NORRIS
ELIZABETH GOUGH

JANET ANDREWS
HARRIET SCHMALTZ
MOZELLE TRAVERS
JULIA WILKE

WHITE

ELIZABETH PEPPLE
OCTAVIA EDWARDS
FRANCES GIBSON
MARY BRUSS
CATHERINE SPEER

MARY ANN HALSELL
MARY CLARK
BLANCHE TURLEY
HELEN MORRISON

Girls' Baseball

THE baseball series closed March 23, 1927, for the North Dallas gym girls with the IIA team victorious over the IIB team.

Members of the winning team were: captain, Elva Goldman; catcher, Mary Clark; pitcher, Elva Goldman; first base, Mozelle Travers; second base, Marguerite McWilliams; third base, Agnes Bliss; left shortstop, Nina Belle Williams; right shortstop, Margie McKinney; left field Macbelle Floyd; right field, Margaret Brown; center field, Nina Houston.

Track

NORTH DALLAS has no regular track team, for, owing to the limited finances of all the Dallas high schools, there will be no 1927 city track meet. About twelve boys interested in track reported to Mr. Baker for practice in the early part of the season. They are: John Phillips, Eugene Phillips, James Rountree, Jack Little, Peyton Cooper, Billy Whitehurst, Thomas Porter, Dudley Caswell, Jack Ficklen, Winston Fudge, Reagan Dixon, and Frank Harris.

Back Row: Winston Fudge, Reagan Dixon, Frank Harris, Peyton Cooper, John Phillips, Billy Whitehurst, Jack Little.

Tennis

THE North Dallas boys' tennis team has been selected for the coming city series. The team is composed of Hardy, the single's entry, and Finney and Haltom, for the double's team. Matches have been arranged with all the teams representing the Dallas high schools, and several with out-of-town teams.

The girls' team has been chosen by an elimination tournament and Helen Comstock will represent North Dallas in the singles, and May and Kathleen McCrary will play the doubles matches.

The boys' team is pointing to the Oak Cliff matches in which they will have to oppose "Doc" Bar, the diminutive star. The girls' team is on the look-out for Bryan. Two of our former stars, the Johnson sisters, are members of the Bryan team, and they are formidable opponents for any team in the city.

Mr. DeLaney, the coach, is expecting a very successful season this year. He feels certain that both the boys' and girls' team will come through their matches with wins.

Back Row: Mae McCrary, Helen Comstock, Kathleen McCrary.

Golf

AFTER the test held at the Oak Grove course at the beginning of the season, there remained but six regulars and three substitutes. The team consisted of David Goldman, captain, Horace Henry, Perry Keith, David Crow, and George Gambill. The substitutes were Ernest Leonard, Horace Smith, and J. B. Heinen.

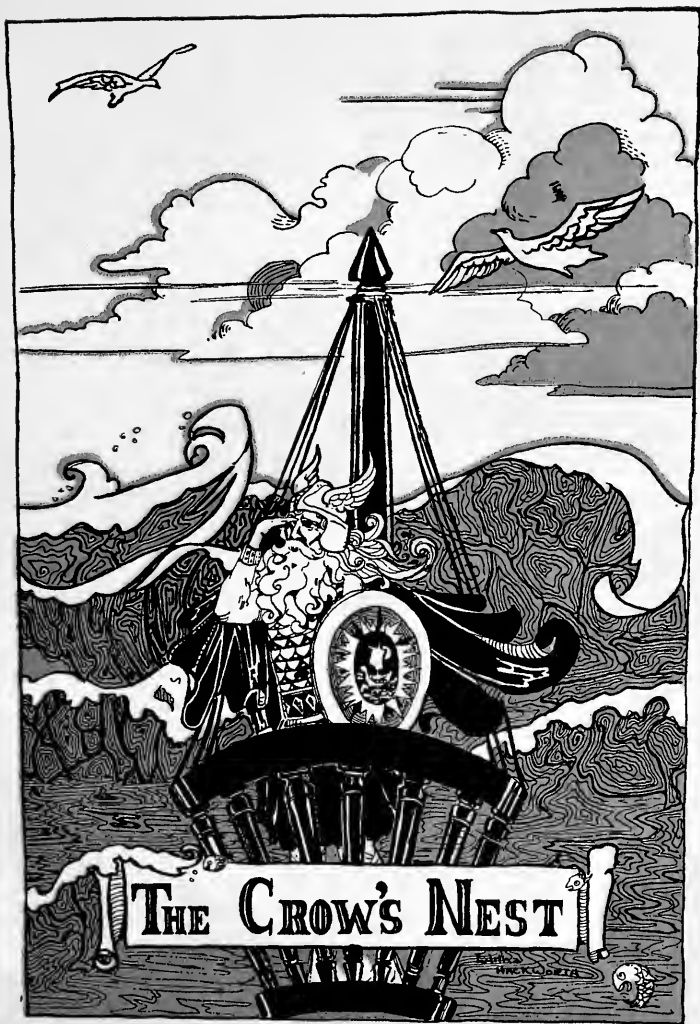

Many close matches were played and many were not decided until the last hole or ended in a tie. Before mid-term the team was always within a few points of first place, but the team lost George Gambill and Davis Crow due to graduation.

At the end of the season the North Dallas team held third place.

Back Row: J. B. Heinen, Horace Smith, Horace Henry.

Front Row: Ernest Leonard, Perry Keith, Charles Malone, Charles Johnston, Robert Snyder.

Dedication

NO, dear students, a Crow's Nest is not a hang-out for blackbirds, jail-birds, or any other kind of birds. However, if you look between these pages you no doubt will find some high-fliers and some lame ducks. But, to get back, a Crow's Nest is that part of a vessel from which everything is viewed—from which nothing escapes. You, dear students, and your smallest of eccentricities are caricatured in a way that would startle Elinor Glynn. The Crow's Nest outdoes that lady: it calls a spade a trump. The Crow's Nest regrets nothing nor does it offer any apologies. If you, dear students, have any complaints to offer, you are out of luck. The Viking has left port and is somewhere at sea! Keeping the aforementioned facts in mind, we now wish to dedicate this section to those who have made it possible:—

The editor of The Norther—we like him fine and we hope he gets ahead—he needs one;

“Pop” Myers—the one who took the harness off the horse laugh;

Major D. K. Lansing—the man who made the world safe for democracy and cadet officers.

Miss Miller: "We have a new face in class this morning."

Jack Ficklen: "New? I've had it all my life."

Mrs. Clopton: "Decline love, Elizabeth."

Elizabeth Spaulding: "Decline love, Mrs. Clopton? Not me!"

Dealer: "Madam, can I sell you a vacuum cleaner?"

Mrs. Hilt: "No, sir, we haven't any vacuums to clean in this house!"

The VIKING

"Is Jane in?"

Mrs. Hart: "No, Ed."

Ed H.: "But I just saw her at the window."

"Yes, and she saw you, too,"

Ed Noyes (at breakfast table—Camp Dallas): "Pass the butter!"

Howard Lang (watching him put a chunk of it in his cup of coffee): "What's the idea, Ed?"

Ed Noyes: "I believe in the strong helping the weak."

Mary K. Boone: "Well, what did you talk about tonight?"

Elizabeth Gough: "Oh, I told him ghost stories but he didn't take the hint."

Bob Cullum: "What's this World Court they're talking about?"

Jim Laney: "I guess it must be the place they're going to hold the international tennis matches."

Mr. Oehler thinks soldiers are very dishonest because every night a sentry is relieved of his watch.

Our idea of a broad, educated man is Mr. Comstock just run over by a steam roller.

Hard-Boiled Little Girl: "Gimme one ticket and make it snappy!"

Ticket Girl: "But, honey, there are two of you; how about the other little girl with you?"

H.-B. L. G.: "Aw, ain't we half sisters? Add that up!"

O. J.: "Don't you like Noyes?"

Ed: "Yeh!—shall we yell together?"

"Didja ever meet my shiek from the sewing machine factory?"

"Singer?"

"No, dearie, but he sure can dance."

Mrs. Whiteley: "What was the greatest difficulty George Washington had to contend with?"

Student: "He couldn't tell a lie."

First Burglar: "Come on! Let's figure up and see what we made on this haul."

Second Burglar: "Aw, I'm tired! Wait and read the papers in the morning."

Mrs. Olcott used to call Cornelius "Peter Pan" 'cause he was so cute. Now Dorothy calls him "Pete" for short.

Mary K.: "I passed by your house last night."

Ed Noyes: "Thanks."

Miss Ray: "Are you chewing gum?"

Oscar Feltner: "I have some in my mouth, but it isn't in circulation."

"That will hold you down, I guess," said Miss Agnew as she set a stack of detention cards on some test papers.

Mr. DeLaney: "Late again!"

Jim Bray: "Yeah? So am I."

J. C. Smith: "The marvels of electricity have set me thinking."

George McClure: "Yes, it's wonderful what electricity can do."

Mrs. Baker: "I'm sick of being married."

Mr. Baker: "So's your old man."

The height of conceit is when a flea hops up an elephant's leg with murder in his heart.

Mr. Tardy: "It makes me sick at heart to see you smoke."

Paul Mattison: "It seems to catch me more in the stomach."

A good example of patriotism is any flea that thinks that he is on the most wonderful dog in the world.

Mr. Tardy (in bookshop): "Is this a free translation?"

Clerk: "No sir, it will cost you two dollars."

"Why does Janet talk so much?"

"She was vaccinated with a phonograph needle."

Father: "I'm afraid I'll never see you in heaven, my son."

Bill Bonney: "Whatcha been doin' now, pop?"

Mrs. Hicks: "Do I understand you called my son a scurvy elephant?"

Mr. Myers (thinking rapidly): "No, ma'am, a disturbing element."

A certain scientist has stated that if the earth were flattened out, water two miles deep would cover it. If anyone sees someone flattening out this world, please shoot him, because some of us up here at N. D. can't swim.

Homer J. Fisher: "Will you need me any longer, sir?"

Major: "Yes, about two feet."

"Where are you going?"

"To play golf."

"With knickers?"

"No, white people."

"Tony, what are you doing?"

Tony (looking in mirror): "Counting my moustache, you fool."

"It's the little things that tell," said Anneely as she pulled her kid brother from under the sofa.

Marie: "What's the date?"

Houston: "I don't know."

Marie: "You have a paper in your pocket."

Houston: "Yeah, but that's yesterday's."

Major Lang (at court martial): "The next person who interrupts the proceedings will be sent home."

Prisoner: "Hurray!"

"I want a glass of soda water without flavor."

"What flavor?"

"Without vanilla."

"Sorry; we're out of vanilla. You'll have to take it without chocolate."

Miss Gray: "What causes the flight of time?"

Physics Shark: "It must be the spur of the moment."

Esther Norris: "I am indebted to you for all I know."

Mild Dice: "Oh, don't mention such trifles."

"Do you know how absent-minded Mr. White is?"

"No."

"The other day he looked in a hair brush thinking it a mirror and said, 'My, but I need a shave'."

Captain Kidswell: "Did you give Mr. Comstock that notice?"

Rookie: "Sure, but there's no use writing him notices: he's blind as a bat."

Capt. K.: "What makes you think so?"

Rookie: "Why, he asked me twice where my hat was, and it was on my head all of the time!"

Miss Ray: "Order, please!"

Marjorie Connell: "Ham sandwich and a cup of coffee."

Mrs. DeLaney: "Where's the car?"

Mr. DeLaney: "Did I take the car?"

Mrs. DeLaney: "Certainly."

Mr. DeLaney: "Oh, I remember now getting out and thanking the man for the ride."

"Something must be done," said Mary Elizabeth as she smelled the biscuits burning.

Charles Edward Long: "Why are all the girls crazy to dance with me?"

Mildred Munnerlyn: "Oh, you have such large, comfortable feet."

We had a good joke for this space but we lost Scott Bruce's picture and had to leave it out.

Female Student: "Isn't it cruel to cut up those poor frogs?"

Mr. Baker: "Oh that's all right. They get used to it."

Brandon: "Got a date tonight?"

Nancy (hopefully): "Why, no."

Brandon: "Well, I've got a good book you can read."

Elizabeth Spaulding says she believes in R. O. T. C. for one Major reason.

Speaking of friends in need, the other day someone said that Francis McGinnis wasn't fit to eat with hogs, but Hermon took up for him and said he was.

Frances Seale: "Why it's only six o'clock. I told you to come after supper."

Her Date: "Well, that's what I came after."

Teacher: "Jakey, can you spell avoid?"

Jakey: "Sure, teacher, vot iss the void?"

Courtney Jackson: "Is Sue married?"

Homer Jack: "No, is 'oo?"

Inge Grant: "I want to try on that pair of pants in the window."

Clerk: "Sorry, sir, you'll have to use the dressing room."

A tall, proud girl with flowing hair turned slowly to the white robed figure before her who held in his hand a knife streaked with blood.

"Have you no heart?" she asked.

"No," he growled.

"Well, then give me ten cents' worth of liver."

Mr. Harris (on street car): "I can't bear to see a woman standing like that . . . Guess I'll shut my eyes and go to sleep a while."

Bill Lowery thinks a circle is a square without any corners.

Jimmy Parker: "Did you read those jokes for The Viking I left on your desk?"

Tubby Winn: "Yes, about ten years ago."

Lillian: "What are you scratching?"

Chick: "My arithmetic bugs."

Lillian: "Arithmetic bugs?"

Chick: "Yeah. They add to my misery, divide my attention, subtract from my pleasure, and multiply like rabbits."

"Great Scott! I've forgotten who wrote Ivanhoe."

"I'll tell you if you'll tell me who the Dickens wrote the Tale of Two Cities."

Billy Keathly: "Yeah, but I got her eatin' apples to keep him away."

Every time William Rembert looks up his family tree he has to dodge a shower of cocoanuts.

Nita: "Did you keep cool in Mr. Comstock's office?"

Bertie: "Did I? Why I fairly shivered."

Scott Bruce: "Do you use Williams' Shaving Cream?"

Milton D.: "Naw, I quit rooming with him."

Mrs. Irish says that when she gets mad, she says things to gentlemen that a lady shouldn't say.

What They Expect of a Car:

The speed demon—gangway!

Mr. Spaulding—an occasional chance at it.

The traffic cop—no back talk.

Elizabeth G.—fifteen passengers.

The taxi driver—a forgotten wallet now and then.

The flapper—affection and respect.

Ed Haltom—more noise on fewer gallons.

Following the policy of the Norther joke editor we have let the editor of that periodical read our jokes so we could choose the ones that even the dumbest would catch.

Dorothy Rose is the kind of girl that would swipe a picture of somebody when he was too sick to take up for himself.

Mr. Harris: "My boy, do you know what becomes of little boys that play marbles and curse?"

Little Boy: "Yes, sir, they grow up and become golfers."

Judge: "Why did you shoot this man?"

Prisoner: "Self defence, your honor. I killed his wife, and he was tryin' to get revenge."

Judge: "Oh, that's different. Case dismissed."

Jimmie Parker (waking up in middle of assembly speech): "Say, how long have you been lecturing?"

Lecturer: "About four years."

J. P.: "Well, I guess I'll stick around; you ought to be about through."

Now that he sees it's impossible for him to graduate with honors, Raymond Simpson is going to try for horrible mention.

Horses used to get scared when they saw an automobile—now it's when they see another horse.

Mr. Walker certainly uses circumlocution, and not only that, but he has such a round-about way of saying things.

THESE MOVIE CAPTIONS

"Day broke, but they saved the pieces."

"It was 12 o'clock in Dan McGrew's cabin. In fact, it was twelve o'clock all over town."

"Two things brought our hero back; a train and an automobile."

A big dog ran against an old woman just crossing the street, and as she got up a Ford knocked her over again. A man rushed up: "Did it hurt you, ma'am?"

Old Lady: "Well, the dog wasn't so bad, but the tin can on its tail was what hurt."

Richard Kirkpatrick (on Hi-Y picnic): "Phew, there's too much mustard on this sandwich."

Hugh McClung: "Naw, there's not. That's the one with the wasp on it."

R. Allison: "How can you prevent disease from biting insects?"

Another bum: "Don't bite 'em."

Maurine Coats: "Why do you call Bob maple syrup?"

Mary Cowles: "'Cause he's such a refined sap."

Diogenes may now quit hunting. William Rembert has confessed he doesn't know anything.

YE EDITOR'S DIRT

Some people say that lightning hasn't much power, but it surely can make Isabel pull her shades down.

Ed Haltom has just completed breaking the 13th girl's heart since school started. We hope somebody breaks his before he leaves this summer.

We wonder when Isabel will be satisfied with her laugh. She has been trying for 16 years—[Deleted].

Please tell "Tubby" who put that lock on his locker.

O. J.: "Frank and Mary Belle haven't got the same name . . . yet."

Raymond: "Why did you add the yet?"

O. J.: "She wants to teach her kindergarten a few more years."

Charles Wallis: "Does every girl have a hope chest?"

Charles Gilpin: "I don't know about the chest, but if they are all like Ester Norris they at least have the hope."

Ye editor wishes to extend his best wishes to all the ladies and gentlemen of our class and also to Tony and Mary Elizabeth.

CHEMICAL ELEMENT 61

First to be born on American soil

OUT of 400 pounds of gas light mantle material donated by a gas light manufacturer, the University of Illinois chemists found that rare earth element Number 61, named Illinium.

The gas industry has been co-operating in the world's scientific research since 1808, when William Murdoch first piped his gas into the Soho engine works. It was the sticky mess left over in condensers at a coal-gas manufacturing plant that developed coal-tar dyes.

Behind the Button You Press

Night and day men are on duty to provide and maintain service to give you every electrical comfort through that button on your wall.

—is a vast store of energy ready to spring to your service, when you casually flip the switch.

Far away from you is the source of this mighty energy you tap; far away, in a large power plant, where the steady hum of generators and other marvelous equipment marks the making of your electricity.

A great distributing system brings it up to that button on your wall, there to be always ready to turn to light, heat or power, for the home, business, in education, recreation, at the mere touch of your finger. Electricity, the miracle-worker of our everyday life.

What would we do without it?

Castles & Kings

TODAY, castles are rather passé, and kings are in the discard, but even in their heyday they could boast of no such things as you take for granted.

No king could command the services which are at your beck and call. No castle contained the comfort and conveniences which are intrinsic features of even the smallest apartment or the modest bungalow. Few even had a clock.

Yet some people today dwell in medieval inconvenience. There are hundreds of homes without a telephone!

Is your "castle" up-to-date, or do you have to run over to your neighbor's to telephone?

You will find that the cost of telephone service is much less than it is worth, so valuable that you'll wonder how you ever got along without it.

Better apply for a telephone today.

Craftsmanship

~the embodiment of skill and handiwork, demands a care, a faith and a hope that can only be acquired through inherent ability, a desire-to-do and a time-proven experience. All of these requirements of craftsmanship give vivid proof of their existence in the craftsmen of the House of Zeese by the superiority and individuality of the finished product. ~ ~ ~
